

OPPORTUNITY AND DEMOCRACY: A LATINA'S PERSPECTIVE

Maria Echaveste

7:30PM, THURSDAY, 10/29/2020

A livestream presentation in conjunction with the Bankhead Theater

Maria Echaveste, president of the Opportunity Institute in Berkeley and Deputy Chief of Staff in the Clinton administration, will participate in a Rae Dorough Speakers Series moderated online discussion. Echaveste will show how inequities in social and economic mobility, educational opportunity, health care and immigration policy affect the Latino and Black communities. She will also reflect on her improbable journey from a Texas migrant farm workers' camp to Stanford University, UC Berkeley Law School and the Clinton White House. Speaking three days before the November 3 election, Echaveste will share her view of what is at stake.

PURCHASE TICKETS ONLINE: LVPAC.ORG

(FREE TICKETS AVAILABLE FOR STUDENTS AND EDUCATORS)

RaeDoroughSpeakerSeries.org

 facebook.com/RaeDoroughSpeakers

PRESENTING SPONSOR

Lynn & Joan Seppala

THE SERIES IS ALSO SPONSORED IN PART BY

Sandia
National Laboratories

